It is the general policy of the Board to accept non-resident students upon the payment of tuition only when such acceptance will not necessitate increasing the size of the faculty or staff, or result in classes containing more than the permitted number of students. The Board may waive payment of tuition under conditions stipulated by law or regulations associated with this policy.

Students who become non-residents during a school semester may be permitted to continue attending the Danbury Public Schools for the remainder of that semester without payment of tuition.

The Board of Education will provide transportation for students admitted under this policy only within the existing school bus routes and schedules within a particular attendance area.
